

PROJECT FORUM FOR THE COURSE/MODULE

Topic: Describe the types, benefits and disadvantages of Preventive Maintenance.

- What is Preventive Maintenance? Give examples.
- What are the types of Preventive Maintenance? Explain them briefly.
- What are the benefits of Preventive Maintenance?
- Can you mention the disadvantages of Preventive Maintenance?
- Write your answers in a clear way.

Considerations:

- Your participation and the value you contribute to the heightened discussion of concepts will be evaluated. You must not only answer the initial topic or question but continue participating until the end of the Project.
- Before writing your opinion/response, it is advisable to first read the responses of other students, reflect, deepen and contribute.
- Make sure your opinion/response is pertinent, not too long, but clearly explains what you want to express.
- Use courteous and respectful language, appropriate to the circumstances and to the other participants in the forum.
- The way in which you express yourself in the forum will reflect the way you will act in your working life, so it is important that you practice and do it in the best way, a Competence well seen by Companies and Industries is that their workers give their opinion and make constructive contributions about their work activities.
